BIG COUNTY FAIR IS IN FULL SWING

Exhibits Late But Arriving
Hourly for the Big Show.

Pontotoc county's big free fair opened today and promises to be in full swing by tonight. Exhibits are late arriving this time, but they are coming in rapidly today, and by tomorrow it is thought that the exhibit buildings and stables will be well filled.

Many splendid cattle exhibits are already in the stalls, and the showing of hogs and sheep is good. Some of the finest specimens of Duroc ever seen at a fair here are already on the grounds with more to come. Horses and mules are coming slowly but some real good specimens are already on hand. Poultry is one of the chief exhibits here, as a rule, and the indications are that the building is going to be filled to capacity on this occasion.

The big automobile exhibit tent is up and already there are some splendid tractor exhibits placed.

Most of the concession booths are up and ready for business. The red cross and tuberculosis association are arranging their stand this afternoon and it will also be used as an emergency hospital. Trained nurses will be on hand at all times during the fair to take care of any accidents or any case of sickness that might appear. Thousands of sanitary drinking cups have been furnished by the state headquarters of the tuberculosis society, and these will be free to the public at all times. There is also an unlimited supply of literature which will be distributed to the visitors.

There will be little doing before this evening, but by tomorrow the fair will be well under way and the agricultural, school and other important exhibits will have been placed. Considering the many handicaps which the management has encountered, the outlook is good for a most splendid fair under the new free fair plan, tried for the first time in Pontotoc county this season.

HOLCOMB DOUBTS LOYALTY OF SUFFRAGE MEASURE

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 15.—Governor Holcomb, doubting the legality of the ratification of the nineteenth amendment by the legislature yesterday, has with held certification of the action.

Miss Katherine Planagan for the suffrage association last night secured a certified copy of the resolution of ratification and left for Washington to file it with Secretary of State Coby.

The legislature has been called into special session next Tuesday to receive from Governor Holcomb the receipt of the nineteenth amendment and proclamation which Secretary Coby sent him on which he expects the legislature to act.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE WANT LAW ENFORCED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—committee was appointed today at the Anti-Saloon league conference here to draft a resolution warning federal judges that unless they "sacredly performed their sacred duties in enforcing the prohibition laws the league would seek their impeachment."

Charges were made that some federal judges had "coddled bootleggers and moonshiners," and that the prohibition laws were being made a "farce" in some sections by light punishment.

The committee was named by the Rev. P. A. Baker, general superintendent of the league, after speakers at the conference had vigorously criticized federal judges for alleged laxity in meting out punishment to those convicted of violation of the prohibition amendment and enforcement law.

Democracy And the Farmer

Eight years ago today under a republican administration the highest price paid for cotton was 11.42.

MUCH INTEREST IN ILLINOIS PRIMARY

Sheriff Appoints Thousand Deputies for Duty at the Polls.

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Republican and democrat candidates for United States Senator, representatives, governor and nearly ninety other state offices were balloted upon by men and women in Illinois today. The bitter campaign which developed between two factions in the republican party was expected to result in the largest vote in the states history.

The republican factional fight centered around the ticket headed by Len Small and supported by Mayor Thompson of Chicago, to which was opposed that headed by John Oglesby, Lieutenant Governor, supported by Frank O. Lowden.

The announcement by Sheriff Peters of Cook County, of the appointment of more than 1000 deputies for duty at the polls, drew charges from the Thompson faction of attempted intimidation and instructions to the police to arrest any deputies found violating city ordinances or election regulations. Sheriff Peters warned that interference with the deputies "might lead to bloodshed."

WET WEATHER HURTS COTTON

Broom Corn, Native Hay, and Alfalfa Also in Bad Condition.

By the Associated Press
OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 15.—Weather the past week has been unfavorable for farm work and the maturing of late crops, while frequent rains and wet soil retarded the preparation of wheat land, according to the weather and crop report issued by the Weather Bureau here for the week ending September 14.

"Cotton made little progress or deteriorated on account of too much rain and lack of sunshine," the report continued, "the plants having on so much foliage that the bolls are shaded and rotting instead of opening. Boll worm and weevil damage increased and is causing much damage in some sections.

Considerable damage to broom corn, alfalfa and native hay in curing by wet weather is shown in the report.

POLISH DELEGATION ON WAY TO RIGA CONFERENCE

By the Associated Press
WARSAW, Sept. 15.—The Polish delegation appointed to conduct the peace negotiations with Soviet Russia left Warsaw on a special train last night for Danzig, where its members will board British torpedo boat destroyers for Riga, where the conference is to be held.

WAS IT DYNAMITED?

At least two farmers in the vicinity of Byng state that on the night and at the time the section of the low water bridge across the Canadian river went out they distinctly heard a shot of dynamite or other high explosive.

We know the river wasn't up to speak of, and we know the bridge was secure and had withstood some of the hardest freshets ever known in this section of the country.

The question naturally arises, was the bridge dynamited? If so, who did it, and for what purpose?

We know that it has killed lots of trade for Ada. It will be the means of keeping lots of trade on the other side of the river. It will kill eggs and regress for a great number of people who would like to keep in touch with each other for business reasons.

Is this at least not a case that should command the attention of the business men of the city, and the officers whose business it is to investigate such rumors.

HOUSE HUNTING IN THE STONE AGE

A STORE'S CHARACTER AND ITS ADVERTISING

The Ada Evening News claims to be "a paper with a soul." For the last year and a half, since the paper has been under the present management, it has endeavored to make itself an instrument of inestimable value in the upbuilding of the city of Ada and the county of Pontotoc, and up to this good hour every cent of profit which has accrued from the business has been put back into the business in payment of improved machinery and additional facilities.

In its news and editorial columns it seeks to serve the public as a source of information and boost for the betterment of the community. In its advertising columns it endeavors to give the merchants of the community value received for their money and help them on their way to prosperity. Advertising is the paper's chief stock in trade on the revenue of which it exists.

Naturally, then, we have at hand the best ad and illustration service that money can buy. We are prepared to help the merchant solve his advertising problems. We have men whose services you can commandeer at any time, free of charge. We are here, Mr. Merchant, to help you on the way to Wellville, and at the same time earn a livelihood for ourselves. The News wants to co-operate with every business man who is trying to "live and let live" and make a great, progressive city out of Ada.

A store has character, as well as an individual, or a town, or a church, or a club.

The character of an individual or town or church or club is largely a matter of pride; but the character of a store is a matter of pride plus profit.

A store of character is ever reaching out for the acquaintance of strangers, that they may come to know and value its character and its superior merchandising facilities. There are various means employed to secure this result, but that which has been and is employed to the greatest extent and to the greatest satisfaction is newspaper advertising.

If the newspaper advertising does not give the reader a good conception of the store's character, a large percentage of the space and money expended is lost. Such advertising may be said to be all lost unless it merely assists the stranger-reader to recall the name of the store at some time when a purchase is contemplated.

Discriminating and appreciative purchasers are able to tell at a first glance at any metropolitan paper what the good stores are in the city in which the paper is published. Their ads stand out among all the others in the sheet. They show a careful preparation which might correspond to the pains with which a stock might have been selected; they have a clean, well-balanced, symmetrical look, which suggests that the merchandise in the advertising store is well-arranged for display and examination by the prospective purchaser, and that the store is a pleasing place in which to spend the time required for the purchases contemplated; the illustrations are alive, well-drawn, attractive, pleasing to look at, and suggest that the lines of merchandise advertised are up to the minute and comprehending all demands that might be put upon them by the most desirable class of customers.

Come around to the office and let our advertising men tell you how you can increase your business and save money at little cost. Let us meet upon the square, and in a business like manner work out our own salvation, and at the same time work out the salvation of Ada.

LABOR CANDIDATES AHEAD IN COLORADO PRIMARY

By the Associated Press
DENVER, Sept. 15.—With most of the city votes heard from and a majority of the county precincts unreported, James M. Collins, non-partisan and labor candidate for the democratic nomination for governor, was leading Robert Higgins, former state treasurer, by a little more than 100 votes in yesterday's state wide primary.

THIRTEEN WITNESSES AND ONE POLICE OFFICER TESTIFY BEFORE CITY COM- MISSIONERS IN POLICE PROBE AT CITY HALL YESTERDAY.

Wholesale charges upon the part of citizens of dereliction on the part of the city police department's patrolmen is said to be the cause of an investigation which was held before Mayor Gary Kitchens and commissioners Jones and Smith at the city hall yesterday afternoon.

While an occurrence which took place in front of the Palm Garden on the night of September 6, constituted the premise on which the investigation was based, the commissioners asked all witnesses examined if they knew of other cases of negligence on the part of the police.

While officer James Lillard was in the limelight throughout the investigation, it was made plain by the commissioners at the outset that all policemen were under investigation and that officer Lillard was not being discriminated against. Mr. Lillard's prominence in the investigation was probably due to the fact that he was the night man on the Palm Garden beat on the night of September 6, when the trouble in question took place, but during the investigation inquiry was made as to dereliction on the part of all members of the police force.

Thirteen witnesses, composed of well known citizens of the city, were placed under oath and examined as to their knowledge of the conduct of the police department, and more especially with reference to the disturbance of September 6 when it was alleged that bedlam reigned for two hours in one of the most prominent downtown sections of the city without police interference.

City Attorney J. W. Deen conducted the investigation of the witnesses, but frequently Mayor Kitchens and Commissioners Jones and Smith would supplement him with questions to the witnesses on the stand. The questioning was thorough and it was evident that the commissioners were sincere in their efforts to arrive at the truth and willing to hear all that the witnesses cared to relate.

It is alleged that on the night of September 6, Lewis Keller was the principal in a disturbance in front of the Palm Garden at 113 East Main, which is said to have lasted at least two hours before a policeman arrived. It is also alleged that no arrest was made, notwithstanding the fact that the disturbance was such as to attract a morbid crowd of over a hundred spectators and block passage on the south side of the street for the full time of the disturbance. Testimony developed in the case was substantially as follows:

First Witness—Henry Wells
Was in Ada on the night of September 6. Saw part of the trouble in front of Palm Garden. Got there about 8 o'clock and saw several fellows holding Keller. Heard swearing and loud and boisterous noises. Saw Officer Lillard arrive 15 or 20 minutes later. Officer walked up to crowd where disturbance was on but made no arrest. Saw friends take Keller to opposite side of the street. Later saw Lillard and Chief of Police Gotscher turn corner at First National bank going south toward city hall with Keller walking between them. Went home and saw nothing more.

Second Witness—Mrs. Noah Miller
Was at the Palm Garden on the night of September 6. Trouble was on when she entered the place, but she didn't know it at the time. Knew none of the parties engaged in the embroglio. Saw a man walking up and down the floor of the Palm Garden with a Colt's automatic in his hand. Asked a lady friend who the fellow was and was informed that it was Cecil Riddle. Testified that the disturbance lasted all of two hours. She arrived at Palm Garden about 7 o'clock, after the disturbance had started, went back again at 8:30 and the trouble was still brewing. Didn't see any policeman at all. Went past the Palm Garden on the opposite side of the street at 9 o'clock and the crowd was still milling on the sidewalk and in the street. "The crowd was such that I considered it no place for a lady," said Mrs. Miller, "so I crossed the street at the First National bank corner and passed by on the opposite side." Mrs. Miller testified that on more than one occasion in the past she had called the police department at night and asked for policemen to come to her neighborhood to quell disturbances, but said she had never been able to get one to come. She gave it as her opinion that the night officers would have furnished no protection had they been on the scene at the Palm Garden on the night in question.

Third Witness—John Elmsford
Was at the Palm Garden a while on the night of September 6, and saw "cutting up." Wasn't present when trouble started. Saw Keller in door of Palm Garden cursing Austin Brown. Didn't know what the trouble was between Brown and Keller. Saw Lillard come up about the time trouble was over and then go away. Saw Lillard come back with Chief Gotscher and saw them both walk away in company with Keller. Went home and saw nothing else.

Fourth Witness—George Taylor
Was at the Palm Garden a while on the night of September 6. Saw parties to disturbance and heard loud swearing. Had been there between 40 minutes and an hour before Officer Lillard arrived. Saw officer and Keller talking. Keller crossed the street with friends while Lillard went west on Main street. Lillard and Chief Gotscher soon returned, went over and talked to Keller a few minutes and all went away together. Later saw one go east on Main street in company with Keller in a Dodge car. Saw nothing else.

Fifth Witness—Joe Cole
Was at Palm Garden night of September 6 and saw "racket" start at 6:30 o'clock. Heard loud swearing but saw no officer. Stayed 10 or 15 minutes. Persuaded Keller to get in car with Captain Kidd and Walter Oliver who drove away. Went home and saw nothing more.

Sixth Witness—Austin Brown
One of the owners of the Palm Garden. Was working on the night of September 6. Trouble started at 6:30 o'clock. Went ahead with his work and went to supper at 8:00 o'clock. Heard swearing and loud disturbance but didn't go outside. Didn't see any gun play during entire disturbance. Came back from supper at 9:00 o'clock. Met Lillard in front of the Ada Motor Co., and asked him why he didn't arrest Keller. Lillard replied that Keller wasn't drunk. Witness did not know what Keller's grievance was as he had never had any trouble with him before. Testified that Keller stood in the door for five and ten minutes at a time on several occasions during the evening abusing him and daring him to come outside. Testified that the street was blocked for two hours.

When asked why he didn't call the police department for an officer, Mr. Brown stated that he was a good friend of Keller's, that Keller was a good fellow, had helped him out on many occasions and that he didn't want to cause him trouble if it could be avoided. Hoped all the way through that trouble would stop without the necessity of calling an officer.

Seventh Witness—Ross Tipton
Was at the Palm Garden at 7:30 on the evening of September 6, and remained about two hours. Trouble lasted entire time he was present. Said that he had heard the policemen severely criticized for not making an arrest. Heard "cops" hurrahed for not taking Keller. Saw no gun, and didn't hear Keller curse the policeman as has been charged. Went home and saw nothing more.

Eighth Witness—B. M. Riddle
Was at the Palm Garden on the night of September 6, but didn't see the beginning of the trouble. Saw excitement in the crowd and heard loud swearing. Got in a car with Keller and drove around town for a while. Keller promised

With The Women of Today

Women lawyers and women judges who handle women's and girls' cases exclusively are becoming more and more numerous. The hope has been expressed by some of the leading sociologists of the country that there will soon be at least one woman judge in every city to handle special cases. Of course, many of the women themselves prefer to handle general cases but there are also those who want to work for women and for women and children alone.

Mrs. E. L. Baldwin of San Francisco is one of them. She acts as referee in girls' cases in the Juvenile Court of San Francisco. She is an ex-officio judge of the court and has the power of rendering decisions. She is also known as one of the original organizers of the Juvenile Court of San Francisco.

Women of Brazil Win Point

The women of Brazil won the first round in the legislative battle for equal suffrage when the constitutional committee of the senate decided recently that woman suffrage could be acted upon legally by congress.

The action came as a surprise in most quarters, as a hard fight had been anticipated in the committee. In view of the committee's action it is now believed that body will report the suffrage bill to the senate with a recommendation for favorable action.

Women of Yesterday

The first daily newspaper in the world is said to have been established by a woman, Miss Elizabeth Mallette, in London, March, 1702. She published and edited the Daily Courant, which she founded for the purpose of doing greater justice for women.

Women in Politics

Mrs. Frank Dodson, of Des Moines, chairman of the Women's Division of the republican state committee of Iowa, has broken all previous records by holding the office of county recorder for ten years. Ordinarily the term of office is from two to four years.

She won this office after the death of her husband, an attorney who was a candidate for the office of judge in his district. He died at the beginning of the campaign and his friends turned their efforts to assisting Mrs. Dodson in getting the nomination for office as county recorder.

Mrs. Dodson was one of the delegates at large sent from Iowa to the republican national convention and was elected as Iowa's member of the committee of permanent organization and made secretary of this committee—the first woman to hold the position.

Through the efforts of Mrs. Dodson Iowa women who were active in Liberty Loan, Red Cross, War Savings Stamps and other large pieces of war work have been enlisted as precinct workers and are now taking an active part in Iowa state politics.

Love's Shortcoming

The Queenslander: The great ocean liner rolled and pitched. "Henry," faltered the young bride, "do you still love me?" "More than ever, darling," was Henry's fervent answer. There was an eloquent silence. "Henry," she gasped, turning her pale, ghastly face away, "I thought that would make me feel better, but it doesn't."

WOMAN SOLVING HOUSE PROBLEM

Rochester Woman To Build One Hundred Concrete Homes.

By Edwin D. Rider

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 15.—A woman is leading the way in Rochester's chamber of commerce. She is Miss Kate Gleason.

All her life Miss Gleason has been a trail-blazer—she has led and Rochester has followed.

She has enjoyed breaking down traditions and entering fields of endeavor hitherto barred to women. When but a girl she entered her father's machine factory as an apprentice. Later she attended the Cornell engineering school.

Miss Gleason is now engaged in her first venture in home building concrete houses. Each house is the erection of 100 cozy little twenty by twenty feet, two stories with a garage in the basement.

Adds Beauty. The difference between these houses and the Edison and Ingersoll concrete houses is that the latter were simply large concrete boxes, while Miss Gleason never had lost sight of beauty in her design. Her houses are an adaption of the Dutch colonial style.

Each has an attractive fireplace and an "L" shaped living and dining room, small but compact and completely equipped kitchen, full basement, which includes garage, furnace, coal room and laundry, bathroom on the second floor, three bedrooms and a 50-foot lot. Miss Gleason designed the house and then had special molds and pouring apparatus constructed. She says the standard concrete apparatus now on the market is unsuitable for the building of small houses.

Manufacturing Process

It would not pay to build one concrete house, she has learned.

"House building must be made a manufacturing process, not an individual, jobbing proposition," says Miss Gleason. "Building of concrete houses is advisable only in groups where your apparatus can be moved easily. Then, too, you cannot evade the human element in house building or any other business."

The kitchen is completely furnished with the exception of pots and pans. It contains a kitchen cabinet, refrigerator, gas stove, sink mixing faucet, laundry and electric ventilator.

Economy of Space

Economy of space is the dominant thing in Miss Gleason's unique concrete houses, with beauty running a close second.

The walls are eight inches in width and the floors four inches thick. Each floor is eight feet in height. The houses are built around a hill in terraces, each row eight feet above the other.

Three men can pour the concrete for a house in the time it would take eighteen men ordinarily. It is difficult, Miss Gleason explained, to estimate how much time is required on one house because she's building 100 and placing the proposition on a manufacturing scale.

MESSAGES Personal to You

Not letters or telegrams but almost as personal as letters or telegrams.

The advertisements in this paper—they were written for you and printed for you.

You would not lay aside a letter or telegram without opening it.

Neither should you lay aside your newspaper without reading the advertisements.

Merchants and manufacturers are talking to you. They are telling you of their goods and their wares and their services. They tell of opportunities. They give you invitations.

It is impossible for these merchants and manufacturers to send letters to all the readers of this paper. So here in the paper today are their letters to the whole community—and to you as a part of the community.

Reading them will help you to economize and post you on store news just as well as if each advertiser sent you a personal letter.

Read them as if they come as personal letters to you.

CAPTAIN COOKE FEELS FINE NOW

"A few bottles of Tanlac made me feel just like a new man," said Capt. F. M. Cook, 144 East Winifred St., St. Paul, Minn., for fifteen years a conductor on the Great Northern railroad, and one of the most popular men of the system.

"For years," continued Capt. Cooke, "I had stomach trouble so bad that what little I did manage to eat would cause me to become terribly nauseated. Gas pressed up against my heart so I could hardly breathe, and I had terrific headaches that would last two or three weeks and nearly drive me wild. I would become so dizzy at times that I had to hold to something to keep from falling, and my nerves got in such shape I could sleep but very little. Every morning I felt dull and heavy and all run down."

"Nothing I tried did me any good, and I kept getting worse until a friend suggested that I try Tanlac. I followed his advice and to make a long story short, I never felt better in my life than I do now. I eat everything they set before me and nothing disagrees with me. Every symptom of all my troubles has left me completely and I feel ten years younger. Tanlac has certainly won my gratitude."

Tanlac is sold in Ada by Gwiz & Mays Drug Co., in Stonewall by L. F. Carpenter, in Francis by Francis Drug Co., in Roff by Dowdy's Pharmacy, in Allen by McManis & Rose and in Vanoss by Chas. L. Berger.

COX EPISCOPALIAN; HARDING BAPTIST

Eight of Former, None of Latter in President's Chair.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—If Warren G. Harding is elected over James M. Cox in November he will be the first member of the Baptist church to become president of the United States.

If James M. Cox receives a plurality in the electoral college he will be the ninth Episcopalian to become president.

Mr. James C. Duncan of Clinton, Mass., calls attention to the fact that no matter how the November elections result the Episcopals will continue to have a plurality in the list of presidents. Eight Episcopals have been president, as against six Unitarians, six Presbyterians, four Methodists, two Reformed (formerly known as Reformed Dutch,) and one member of the Disciples of Christ.

Religion of Presidents
In chronological order Washington was an Episcopalian and John Adams a Unitarian. Jefferson is vaguely classified as a "liberal."

Mr. Duncan explains that "Jefferson's liberalism in religious belief was a part of his democracy."

While he attended the Episcopal church in the neighborhood of his home, sometimes joining in its communion, he was nevertheless liberal.

He definitely takes his stand for Unitarianism in a letter written in 1822, wherein he says: "I hope that there is not a young man now living who will not die a Unitarian."

Incidentally it was Jefferson who took the stand that guaranteed the right of every man to define his religion for himself.

Following Jefferson, came two Episcopals, Madison and Monroe.

KEPT HER AWAKE

The Terrible Pains in Back and Sides. Cardui Gave Relief.

Marksville La.—Mrs. Alice Johnson, of this place, writes: "For one year I suffered with an awful misery in my back and sides. My left side was hurting me all the time. The misery was something awful."

I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night... I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good or relieve me until I took Cardui...

I was not able to do any of my work for one year and I got worse all the time, was confined to my bed off and on. I got so bad with my back that when I stooped down I was not able to straighten up again... I decided I would try Cardui... By time I had taken the entire bottle I was feeling pretty good and could straighten up and my pains were nearly all gone.

I shall always praise Cardui. I continued taking it until I was strong and well." If you suffer from pains due to female complaints, Cardui may be just what you need. Thousands of women who once suffered in this way now praise Cardui for their present good health. Give it a trial.

Notice

TO STOCKHOLDERS IN THE COMMUNITY STORE, INC.:

You are hereby notified to be present at the annual stockholders meeting of the Community Store, Inc., to be held at the City Hall in Ada, Oklahoma at 2 p. m., Thursday, Sept. 16th, 1920 for the purpose of electing a Board of Directors for the ensuing year, and transacting any other business that may properly come before the meeting.

then John Quincy Adams, a Unitarian, and after him the first of the six Presbyterians, Jackson. In order, there followed Van Buren, Reformed; and Tyler, Episcopalian; and Polk, Presbyterian; Taylor, Episcopalian; Fillmore, Unitarian; Pierce, Episcopalian; and Buchanan, Presbyterian.

Thought Lincoln Unitarian. Lincoln is assigned by some statisticians, Mr. Duncan points out, to the Presbyterians, because he occasionally attended their church, although he was not a member. He thinks the Unitarians have a greater claim on him, and quotes from Francis Carpenter's "Six Months at the White House with Abraham Lincoln."

Andrew Jackson is included among the Methodists, apparently being among those who are now described as "having their religion in their wives' names." Grant and Hays were Methodists, and the martyred Garfield a member of the Disciples of Christ. Arthur was an Episcopalian, the last of the long line. The Presbyterians then had Cleveland, Benjamin Harrison and Cleveland again. McKinley was a Methodist.

Then came Roosevelt, the second of the Reformed presidents. President Wilson is a Presbyterian.

Cotton All Mixed Up

Spinners and speculators are industriously working to beat down cotton prices. The condition of the crop on August 1 indicated a total production of more than 12½ million bales in the United States and Oklahoma promised to produce about a twelfth of it. Low grade cotton for which there is no sale clogs the markets and there is much of it yet unsold in Oklahoma.

A very sensible suggestion has come from W. B. Thompson, a cotton factor in New Orleans, who fully realizes that producers of cotton must have cost and at least a little profit before the South can prosper. In a recent circular, he says:

During the last three years, low grade cotton has been a grievous burden upon the cotton industry. During this period the supply of these damaged grades has been abnormally large and the demand therefor abnormally small. Low middling is quoted at 10½ cents a pound less than middling, the next grade above, and good ordinary at 12½ cents a pound less than middling, and even at these discounts all the grades in question have been and still are practically unusable. It costs more to produce these low grades than the higher grades. Even when they can be sold at all they are sold at an enormous loss. Worse than that, the presence of an accumulation of unmerchantable stock in the market is a depressing factor insofar as the merchantable grades are concerned.

The conclusion is that the cotton farmer simply cannot afford to produce and market the lower grades.

These grades not only represent an unbearable difference between the production cost and the sale price. The constitute a weapon with which the producers' antagonists may assault him.

Do not harvest any grade lower than middling. As soon as cotton opens, pick it as rapidly and as carefully as possible; have it ginned gradually; when ginned, store it in a warehouse if one is available; if a warehouse is not available, take the cotton home, build a shelter for it, put it on skids and from time to time turn the bale over so that all sides may be exposed to the air; sell when demand calls for it at satisfactory prices.

Do not pick any rain or weather-damaged cotton. When the weather gets bad turn the cattle into the fields.

HARDING AND THE FARMER

When Warren G. Harding was nominated for the presidency very little was known about his official record. A great deal is known about that record today. And it is beyond any dispute that the more one learns about Harding's record the less standing he has among the American people. Particularly is this true when one investigates his record with reference to matters concerning the well being of the American farmer.

So far as available records show Harding was the only senator who opposed paying the American farmer more than a dollar a bushel for his wheat. Congress was fixing the price of wheat during the war period. It may have fixed it too low. Many people now believe that the government price for wheat was in truth entirely too low. But Senator Harding believed that the price agreed on was entirely too high. He opposed the price that was granted. He said that a dollar a bushel was enough. He said that he happened to know that Ohio farmers were making a handsome profit growing wheat at a dollar a bushel.

Harding voted against the bill creating a national employment bureau. He voted against the Johnson amendment exempting farm tractors, auto tractors and farm wagons from taxation. He voted against the bill exempting sugar and coffee from taxation. He voted against establishing a shipping board to provide better shipping facilities for farmers. He voted in favor of the Poindexter amendment which prohibited the storing of farm products in order to increase the price.

Even after the government had fixed a price for wheat that most wheat growers had agreed was too low, Senator Harding voted against paying the farmers the price that had been promised them. When the bill making good the promised price came before congress Harding voted against it. He was still convinced that a dollar a bushel was enough for farmers to receive for wheat.

On the question of conscription in peace times and on the question of compulsory military training the farmers of America are a unit. They unanimously oppose both propositions. They consented to conscription in time of war and loyally supported it because it was a vital national need. But they oppose conscription in time of peace and oppose compulsory military training at all times. But Harding has voted in favor of both propositions. To make his record all the more objectionable he opposed conscription in time of war when it was needed and voted for it in time of peace when it was not needed.

The republican organization has made much ado about Harding's freindship for the farmer. That friendship has consisted of accepting the farmer's vote when he is a candidate for office and voting against the farmer's interests after he has been elected to office.

Opponents of the league of nations were quick to hail the war in Poland as proof that the league idea is a failure and to say that if we had entered the league of nations, our armies would now be fighting in Poland. But no other nation belonging to the league has sent troops to Poland. Great Britain nor the thirty odd other nations in the league have sent a single soldier to the Polish frontiers. Strange is it not that the league would force Americans to fight in the Polish ranks when it has not caused the soldiers of any other country in the league to fight in the Polish ranks. Instead of its strengthening the cause of those opposing the league, the Polish war seems to have destroyed one of the stock arguments against the league.

The charge of the republican press that Scott Ferris is a machine candidate becomes amusing when one recalls that in the recent primary Mr. Ferris received 106,000 votes, while Mr. Harrel, who has the support of the republican press, received only 17,000 votes. The machine that nominated Scott Ferris polled more votes that has ever been received by any republican candidate in any election ever held in Oklahoma. He received something like 40,000 more votes than all the fourteen candidates who sought the republican nomination for the senatorship.

Led by a candidate who says that a dollar a bushel is enough for farmers to receive for wheat and having expressed their determination to elect a republican president in order to beat down the price of cotton, the republican party ought to poll a heavy vote in every insane asylum in Oklahoma.

POLICE INVESTIGATION HELD TUESDAY

Roddie that if he would take him back to town that he would drop the matter and go home. Roddie acted on his promise but Keller returned to the Palm Garden and trouble started again. Later saw Gotcher and Lillard take Keller to south end of First National Bank building, talk to him a few minutes and let him go. Keller later returned to the Palm Garden and disturbance continued until friends finally persuaded Keller to go home. Heard one man say that he had cursed officer Lillard himself but had to take it back to keep from going to jail. When asked if he knew of other cases of dereliction on the part of the police officers, Mr. Roddie described a scene that occurred on west Main several weeks ago in which he said the police were woefully negligent in the discharge of their duty. Described what seemed to be a riot, and while policemen were a plenty the trouble was not abated until Sheriff Bob Duncan was sent for and appeared on the scene. Mr. Roddie stated that Lillard should not be personally censured, for the reason that he was simply living up to the policy of the police department at the present time.

Ninth Witness—Dill Coleman Wasn't present at the beginning of the trouble. Came on the scene about 8 o'clock and watched the "show" for a while but couldn't remember much about the details. Didn't hear any profanity. Stated that if he had been an officer he believed he would have made an arrest, or attempted to do so.

Tenth Witness—B. Schlenberg Wasn't present at the Palm Garden on the night of September 6. Heard that Keller dared the officer to arrest him, but didn't know whether the report was true or not. Witness was dismissed for the reason that he had nothing but hearsay testimony to give.

Eleventh Witness—Miller Ligon Was at the Palm Garden on the night of the trouble, but arrived there just about the time the disturbance ceased. Thought it stopped about 10 o'clock. Saw Keller cross the street and sit down on the curb while the officer went west on Main street. Went home and saw nothing more that evening.

Twelfth Witness—Ben Teibert Testified that he was one of the owners of the Palm Garden. Knew nothing of the trouble until Austin Brown, his partner, called him on the telephone at his home and told him to come down, that a fellow was down there raising hell. Saw Keller walking up and down the sidewalk in front of the store. Went out and talked to Keller. Heard no swearing. Heard no conversation between Keller and Night Officer Lillard. Keller did not talk abusive to him, but claimed to be having trouble with Austin Brown. Went to work waiting on the trade and paid no more attention to the disturbance.

Thirteenth Witness—Bud Gregg Had heard much of the trouble but knew nothing first-hand. Related a case wherein he said the officers were derelict in their duty. The occurrence in question was on West Main some time ago when six shooters were in evidence and where the police seemed to be afraid to interfere. Sheriff Bob Duncan was sent for, witness stated, and it was he who quelled the disturbance and arrested the offenders.

Officer Lillard Testifies. Stated that he was on duty the night of September 6 but was spending most of his time on West Main watching another case. Came east on Main about 9:30 and met a boy who told him that there was trouble at the Palm Garden. Asked the boy who was making the trouble and the boy responded that it was Lewis Keller. Went back on West Main to get another officer, but failed to find one. Then went to the Palm Garden alone. Saw Keller walk out into the street and followed him. Asked Keller what the trouble was and Keller responded that he was mad. Asked Keller to go with him and Keller consented, but crowd of Keller's friends hemmed him off and three of them took Keller away. Said he had the whole town to see after and that he couldn't stay at the Palm Garden all the time. Said Keller promised to go home and come down the next morning and pay a fine. Stated that the fine was paid next morning according to promise. Met Chief Gotcher down on West Main, told him of the trouble and both went back up the street and got Keller opposite the Palm Garden near Stanfield's grocery. Started to the station with him and crowd again interfered and promised to take Keller home. Keller was turned over to friends who took him away. Later he saw Keller in the street and asked him why he didn't go home. Keller told him that he was on his way to his room then. Watched Keller to his room and saw that he went in and to bed. Saw no more of Keller that night. When asked by Mayor Kitchens why he didn't arrest Keller, Lillard said that he didn't consider him drunk, and that he had not actually seen him do anything unlawful nor had he heard him swear. Stated positively that Keller didn't abuse or curse him, or resist him in any way.

Other Witnesses Out Seventeen witnesses had been subpoenaed to appear at the hearing to give testimony, but the commissioners only had time to examine thirteen of them yesterday afternoon. It is said that one or two others will be examined today or tomorrow.

The commissioners have made no statement as to what action will be taken by them as a result of the probe, but it is believed that steps will be taken to increase the efficiency of the department at an early date.

The consensus of opinion of the public is that we could get along on fewer officers, probably, if they were of absolutely fearless character and were sufficiently paid. It is thought that two good men for day work and two good ones for night could very easily handle the situation, but that they should be well paid, absolutely fearless and reliable and be clothed in uniform and furnished with the necessary facilities to enable them to transact the business of the department in an up-to-date manner.

Two Trucks Clash On West Main and Sustain Damages

This morning on west Main a large truck in the service of the White transfer line smashed into the delivery truck of the Ada Cleaning and Dye Works just as it was backing out from the curb, doing serious damage to the truck's body. Particularly was the left side of the truck's body damaged, it being torn completely away from its holdings. Nothing was stated that might indicate which driver was in error except that the driver for the truck of the Ada Cleaning and Dye Works claimed that he observed the other truck standing still in the street before he started backing out. He says that the other truck then started forward and ran into him. Mr. Smathers expressed much regret at the accident occurring just now, as he says they have never been so rushed in the history of their business. He states, however, that the truck can possibly be put in condition sufficient to make deliveries until another body can be built.

HARDING REFUSES TO HELP COTTON MEN

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Requests of the American cotton association for governmental aid in financing the marketing of the cotton crop of the south, were denied today by Governor Harding of the federal reserve board.

The representatives of the association asked extension of credit on cotton loans estimated at approximately $500,000,000 in order to permit growers to hold their cotton and prevent dumping on the market at a loss.

The solution of the problem facing southern cotton producers, Governor Harding said, lay with the producers themselves and their home banks.

OVERBLOUSE OF CREPE DE CHINE IS SIMPLY MADE

By Eloise.

It is no wonder that dress houses have been complaining of business. What chance has a dress when the many styled overblouse is in the field? A dress means but one thing, while a good skirt with several overblouses may mean anything from a little informal house frock to the most formal evening or dinner gown. What ever the cause may be the overblouse has attained a place in milady's wardrobe which may be envied by frocks and smock like. Just how long it will reign supreme is a question, but while it does one simply must have overblouses.

When milady wears this overblouse of Egyptian red crepe de chine she has achieved the unusual. It is a simple style, but the color, which is one of the henna shades, and the heavy all-over embroidery make it effective as a costume blouse and suitable for wear with a suit upon dressy occasions. It features the Jenny neckline, short sleeves and a loose sash belt.

BOLL WEEVIL SEEN OVER ENTIRE STATE

B. A. Barrett, one of the most extensive cotton growers in this part of Oklahoma was in the Ada Evening News office this morning and had several examples of the devastating work going on in the cotton fields.

Mr. Barrett has large cotton fields at Milburn, Steedman, Atoka and Ada, and he says there is practically no difference in the destruction now going on in the various fields. Three weeks ago the farmers had the best prospects for a bumper cotton crop ever known in the state but Mr. Barrett said, "We cannot possibly expect more than one bale to each five acres."

Few people realize the work done by this pest or how quickly whole fields are entirely destroyed. The insect very much resembles a common mosquito, having a long bill with which he bores into the heart of the tender green bolls. They come in great droves from the timbered lands during damp or rainy weather and the work of destroying a large field of cotton is quickly over.

SETTLEMENT OF COAL STRIKE IS BELIEVED NEAR

By the Associated Press
HAZLETON, Pa., Sept. 15.—Decision on a policy providing for the calling off of the "vacation" strike in the anthracite coal fields was believed near when the policy committee, of the mine workers organization, resumed its session here today.

Early settlement, however, appeared to hinge on the reply of Secretary of Labor Wilson to the mine workers query as to whether he would consider their claims providing the "vacationists" returned to work.

JUDGE OWEN REFUTES REPORT OF FRICTION

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 15.—Judge Thomas H. Owen, vice-chairman of the democratic campaign committee, yesterday spiked a number of statements that have been circulated by republicans regarding the treatment of the friends of Senator Gore by the victorious Scott Ferris organization.

"The rumors that all Gore workers have been sidetracked and refused participation in the campaign for November are utterly false," Judge Owen said. "Such a line of talk is sponsored by republicans who know their only hope of making a good showing in Oklahoma in November is to kick up a row among the democrats."

"I was one of the most active men in Senator Gore's organization. Since his defeat at the primary I have been conferred with and given a leading part in everything of importance accomplished by the democratic organization. We have offered important places to a number of the best Gore workers and we have several of them employed at headquarters in important capacities and we expect to have more. Scott Ferris and his lieutenants have never committed an act since the primary that could be interpreted as an unfriendly act to a democrat who had supported Senator Gore in the primary."

CONNECTICUT ACTION PLEASING TO LEADERS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—"Votes for women is now beyond the possibility of legal attack," said Mrs. Stacy Jones, one of the leaders of the National Women's party, commenting on the ratification.

"If the question of the legality of the Tennessee ratification should come up again," said Mrs. Jones, "the Connecticut action will give us an ample margin of safety. There has always been a feeling here that Connecticut would not ratify unless the legislators considered that the action of the Tennessee legislators was legal and conclusive."

"Special credit is due to Miss Anita Palitzer, legislative secretary of the women's party and a leader of the fight in Tennessee, and Miss Katherine Flannagan for conducting the fight in Connecticut."

The architect of the White House was an Irishman.

ORGANIZATION MEN WIN IN NEW YORK

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Republican and democratic candidates who received the endorsement of the unofficial state convention, won decisive victories in all state wide contests in yesterday's New York state primary.

Nathan Miller of Syracuse, former judge of the court of appeals, republican organization, candidate for governor, lead state senator George Thompson of Niagara by 77,000 votes.

Governor Smith was renominated without opposition by the democrats.

United States Senator Wadsworth, backed by the republican state organization, won an easy victory over Mrs. Ella Boole, president of the state branch of the Women's Christian Temperance association.

Lieut. Gov. Harry Walker, organization candidate for the democratic nomination for United States senator, apparently had defeated Mayor Lunn of Schenectady.

Organization candidates also proved victorious in virtually all contests for nomination for representatives in congress, supreme court, state senators and state assemblymen.

JUVENILE CRIME GROWING MENACE

Number of Youthful Delinquents Has Increased Rapidly.

Juvenile delinquency has increased 200 per cent in the last few years. This was the startling statement of W. D. Matthews, state commissioner of charities and corrections, during his visit to Muskogee this week when he investigated local conditions in a general way and inspected the city and federal jail.

Matthews wastes no time, moreover, in arriving at his idea of the cause of this condition in the cities of Oklahoma, as well as other states of the country.

Parents, Autos, Movies, Blamed
Neglect of parents, automobiles and picture shows are included in a sweeping statement by Matthews as his main causes of the alarming increase in child wrong doing.

"Tell the people for me," he said, "that these are the causes and that I base my statement on observation and study of juvenile conditions in Oklahoma for six years. That's long enough to know what's going on and what I say I can prove."

"Seventy-five per cent of the juvenile wrong doers go wrong through the neglect of parents and the automobile alone."

"During the last few months I have had to take 17 children from their parents, that the youngsters might have the right kind of start in life."

Would Fix Responsibility.
"I propose to stop that condition in one way or another and I believe that one of the best ways is to pass a law that will make persons contributing to the delinquency of a child responsible for its wrong doing."

"I intend to try to have this law passed by the next legislature and then we will be able to take care of the parents who refuse to do what they ought to do in the care of their children. If this were a law we wouldn't see so many young girls and boys running on the streets at night without older persons with them."

"It is useless to try to solve the problem by arresting the children and placing them in jail. In Oklahoma City they tried to do that way, but I went after them and that sort of thing came to an end."

Another feature of a bill that Matthews will try to get through the legislature is the raising of the juvenile age to 18 years instead of 16 years. In that way he says it will be impossible to place mere youths in the state prisons with old, hardened criminals, and will be the means of saving many of them from a life of crime.

May Mean Local Cleanup.
"In several of my trips to the prisons of the state I have found youths who should not have been there and this law will be a good thing for them," he said. "Young persons should be kept in a separate place and not placed in the jails with criminals."

The investigations conducted by Matthews have caused juvenile welfare work to be started in Oklahoma City and it was said today a general movement will result in Muskogee.

City officials are considering the matter and a definite program to cut down the wave of juvenile crime here probably will be the result.

Recently a Y. M. C. A. worker in a speech before a civic club said Muskogee has several boy gangs who get rid of their stolen property through well known "fences" here.

TENNESSEE SUFFRAGE IS DRIVE ON HOUSE

NASHVILLE, Sept. 15.—Encouraged by the action of the Tennessee Senate in adopting a resolution providing for ratification of the Federal suffrage amendment, suffragettes today turned their attention to the House, where they admitted they expected to face more determined opposition. Neither house was in session today, both the senate and house having recessed until Monday.

Suffrage advocates and opponents however, were busy attempting to secure 11th hour pledges of support from members of the house, who remained in Nashville over the week end.

The house will reconvene Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. House leaders considered a vote on suffrage Monday afternoon improbable.

Brick pavements were introduced in the middle west about 1880.

MARTENS DISOWNS LARGE DIAMONDS

Says Jewels Addressed to Him Are Not His Property.

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, unrecognized Russian Soviet Ambassador to the United States, today disclaimed any knowledge of diamonds addressed to him, which it was brot out at his deportation hearing, had been intercepted in New York by custom authorities.

When shown an Associated Press dispatch from Washington, stating that these diamonds were believed to be part of the Russian crown jewels, Martens expressed indignation at the department and asserted that all the confiscated jewels were in the Russian Soviet National Treasury.

Charging that the department was trying to incriminate him in something that would tend to create in the United States a sentiment unfavorable to Soviet Russia, he denied that he had had any round about carrier system operating through Sweden and said that for the last eighteen months he had been directly in touch with Russia.

OILERS TAKE THIRD GAME FROM ADA

Wierd Contest Goes to Allen As Result of One Big Inning.

Three costly errors, coupled with as many hits in the fourth inning of yesterday's game between Ada and Allen, was sufficient to give Allen a total of five runs and a lead which the local team was unable to overcome and the visitors won by a score of 6 to 4.

"Frisco" Vernon worked on the mound for the Oilers and pitched a steady game. Although a little wobbly at times the splendid support he was given kept local hitters from scoring until the fifth. Morgan, who started for Ada worked nicely until the fourth, when his support crumbled and he allowed three hits. He was relieved by "Little" Wanner, who held the visitors scoreless for the remainder of the game.

With a six-run lead piled up against them, Ada came back in the fifth inning with a rally that totaled two scores. Again in the ninth a desperate effort to tie the score netted the locals two runs, but with one on, Covington was struck out and the game went to Allen.

The contest was listless and free of thrills; several times Ada would get men on bases only to be held scoreless by a lack of punch.

The box score follows:

At the Ada Playhouses

American.

From the chorus of a New York revue to the garish surroundings of a Western miners' dance hall goes "Champagne Nell" in "The Spirit of Good," the William Fox photoplay which is coming to the American Theater today. The star Madlain Traverse, and the story is admirably suited to her emotional power.

It is the story of the regeneration of a mining camp by this girl from the city. But in saving others she comes near to losing all that she herself holds dear. It is said to be intensely dramatic—a splendid vehicle for "the empress of stormy emotions."

The authors are Clifford Howard, and Burke Jenkins and the scenario is by Denison Clift. Paul Caze-neuve directed the production. The cast includes Frederick Stanton, Dick La Reno, Charles Smily and Clo King.

McSwain.

Today is the last day's showing of Norma Talmadge in "Yes or No," also one of those side-splitting Charlie Chaplin comedy-dramas called "The Jitney Elopement."

All this week the vaudeville program consists of a singing, dancing chorus show entitled "My Dardanelles Girl," featuring Jesse Buttons and Vi Gilbert. This is one of the cleanest, funniest, best, vaudeville shows seen at the new theater this season and is attracting large crowds each day.

The picture "Yes or No" is one of the classics of filmdom and every woman and girl in Ada should see it.

ARMY OF CANADIAN VETERANS NOW BACK IN RAILWAY WORK

Lieut. R.N. Stewart, V.C. D.S.O. King George V. Awarded Lieut. Stewart the Victoria Cross.

One of the great problems following the close of the world war has been the return to civil life and productive industry of the vast army of men called to the colors by various nations. Everybody knows the great war effort Canada made, sending about a half a million men overseas and spending her money to the extent of billions. Many enterprises in Canada have done good work in the re-employment of returned soldiers. Among them the Canadian Pacific railway holds a conspicuous place. This company sent 11,062 men into the army, paid all volunteers six months' salary and promised every man a position of equal value to the one he left if he came back and applied for it.

Of the 11,062 men who joined the Canadian, British or United States armies, 1,100 were killed or died of wounds, 2,88 were wounded and 7,008 who applied for re-in-state and by federal aid from the United States; and in order to meet the federal aid and in order to provide state aid to the counties and to encourage and stimulate road improvement and road construction it is necessary for the state to raise funds for such purpose.

"A reasonable state levy at this time will be a guarantee that all expenses of the state will be met and that all warrants will be maintained on a cash basis. "With such levy made and after all expenses of such fiscal year are made, should there be a surplus remaining, such surplus could be by the legislature appropriated for development of rural schools and for road construction and improvement purposes, to meet any federal aid apportioned to Oklahoma, and to grant state aid to the counties of the state within the discretion of the legislature."

"Therefore, be it resolved, that a reasonable levy be made as a guarantee that the state treasurer will have ample funds to meet all state warrants and that any excess or surplus remaining at the end of such fiscal year be recommended for appropriation in the aid of rural schools and road improvement and construction as herein set forth."

NORMAL NOTES

Miss Alberta Carney spent the week-end in Wynnewood visiting with friends.

The Treble Clef club is being reorganized and will soon appear before the public.

Lee Low, a practice teacher in the normal, is teaching school in Konawa this week.

Miss Faye Knott, a practice teacher in the training school, is out this week on account of illness.

Miss Ida L. Hoover, the art teacher, returned yesterday from Norman where she spent the week-end visiting.

The enrollment has reached 322 and is still growing. More students are enrolling every day and it is expected that many more will enroll next term.

Thursday, September 16, will be East Central day at the fair. The students will be granted one-half day holiday. East Central will entertain Pontotoc county on that day.

Misses Mable Jones, Grace Dial, Agnes Cameron and Mr. Ed Martin are assistants in the library this term and Mr. Wilson states that with this staff of assistants he will be able to give the best service to the students.

The Government Savings organization of the treasury department is launching a saving campaign in every school house, a campaign of education and actual saving. Where schools prefer to have banks handle the school savings accounts this is to be done but in a great majority of cases the thrift stamp and war savings stamp are the media of savings. Teachers are asked to teach thrift as a part of the school course.

The Tenth district has carried a campaign this summer to teachers at summer schools and teachers' institutes, reminding them that their success in increasing their salaries will depend largely upon their ability to show in dollars and cents how real a service they can render their communities by making more conservative young citizens out of the children in their care.

Expenditures for luxuries are being used to show the need of teaching saving in schools. While America raised twenty-one billion dollars in war loans, it spent twenty two billions in luxuries last year. The Tenth district raised in all its war loans $40 million dollars, ten million less than the national expenditure for candy last year.

CANDY COSTS CHILD MORE THAN ITS EDUCATION

Is your child's candy worth more than his education? It may not be worth more, but it is costing more. The American School Journal says $845,000,000 was spent on the public schools last year while the tax experts at Washington say $950,000,000 was spent on candy in the same time, a difference of 105 millions in favor of candy. Did you imagine it?
